The Culture Diary

2012 will be one of the most exciting years in London's history - and one of the busiest. So to help plan and co-ordinate your events, we have developed The Culture Diary.

We are collecting information so we can inform better planning of cultural events happening throughout 2012 in London.

"Don't miss your chance to be part of the 2012 Culture Diary, a one-stop shop showing everything that is going on in that brilliant year."

- Boris Johnson, Mayor of London

Merton Arts Network

The Merton Arts Network is a voluntary organisation supporting and promoting arts across Merton.

Due to launch in 2010, if you would like to be involved on an organisational or individual basis with the group, please contact John Merriman: john@crowlanestudio.co.uk

Abbeyfest the summer festival of Music, Comedy, Theatre and Film in South London is now in its 13th year and, as always, keep it live is once again the theme this year.

The festival has will be putting on a series of free Jazz concerts and some late night comedy under the banner of 'Slaughterville at the Watermill'. A delicious two-month season of Theatre and Chamber Concerts, South London's only Blues Festival "Blues at the Mills", open-air film nights and ever popular Children's festival, Kidsfest to finish off proceedings on Monday 30th August.

There will be children's activities, late night shopping and two hours of exciting and vibrant live concerts every Friday night throughout.

In excess of 20,000 people enjoyed last years festival and we hope to top that in this our 13th year!
